BURGOYNE FAMILY

OF VIRGINIA

BURGOYNE, 1641.

Few persons are aware of the fact that a direct descendant of High Hon. General John Burgoyne, commander of the British forces in America, 1777, once lived in Albemarle county, Virginia, a member of which family is still residing there.

Robert Burgoyne, younger son of John Burgoyne, of Sutton, England, was one of the auditors of the Exchequer in reign of Henry VIII; the great grandson of this gentleman.

John Burgoyne, Esq., M. P. for county of Warwick, possessed Sutton, Avon, Woodhall, and Hoully, and was created Baronet 1611. Sir John married Jane, dau. of William Kempe, Esq., of Spahis Hall, Essex, by whom (four daughters and three sons). Roger, his successor. John married Penelope, sister of Sir T. Darcy, of Essex, Knt, left issue, and descendants hold lands in Potomac, Robert married Catherine Hayden. The first Baronet was buried at Sutton, 1671. He was succeeded by his eldest son.

17—Sir Roger—This gentleman married, first Anne, dau. and heir of Charles Snell, Esq., and had John, his successor; Jane, m. John Symonds, Esq.; Anne, m. John Raymond, Esq.; Mary, m. William Guyon, Esq.; Edith, dau. undm. He married, second, Ann, dau. of John Robertson, Esq., and had three daughters. He died in 1777, and was succeeded by his only son.

18—Sir John, who m. Constance, dau. Richard Lucy, Esq., of Charlcoote, county Warwick, and had Roger, his successor. John m. Anne, dau. of Charles Burnston, Esq., of Hackney, Middlesex, and had issue, the Right Hon. General John Burgoyne, M. P. for Preston. This gallant officer commanded the British army in America, 1777, and was commander-in-chief in Ireland, in 1782, and sworn of the privy council there. He married Lady Charlotte Emily, daughter of Edward, eighth earl of Derby. Gen. Burgoyne was author of "The Lord of the Oaks," "The Heiress," "The Maid of the Oaks," and other works. He was married to Miss Warren, Lucy, (a son) married Elizabeth Howell, Elizabeth m. Dr. Griffith Davis. Sir John died in 1799, and was succeeded by his son, Sir Roger, 1st Baronet. A grandson of Sir Roger, William Henry Burgoyne, born about 1775, came over to America, about 1810 and settled first in Charleston, S. C., where he amassed much property, and about 1830, moved to New York, where he required much real estate in foreign travel. He married there, Miss Moser, an heiress of a wealthy family, by whom he had four sons and four daughters, all of whom are now dead. William H. Burgoyne died in New York during the Civil War, aged ninety-six.

Henry A. Burgoyne, his second son, and fourth child, born 1819, died 1899, came to Virginia 1858 from New York State, and settled in Albemarle county. His object of coming South was to leave the cold climate of the North; but the winter he came occurred the great snow storm, which covered the whole of Virginia to a depth of four or five feet, and had his face frost bitten, which he had never before experienced. Mr. Burgoyne enlisted in the Confederate Army in 1862, and fought through the war, surrendering with Lee at Appomattox.

He married Mary C., a daughter of Captain Edward Rosseter, of New York. After the war, Mr. Burgoyne moved to Baltimore county, Maryland, where he died. The only surviving son of Mr. Burgoyne is Prof. James H. Burgoyne, clerk of the court of Chancery, Baltimore county, Maryland, who was born during the war, and was named for General Lee.

Prof. Burgoyne married, first, Miss

Hayward; by her a son and daughter. The second wife died without issue. The eldest daughter of Mr. Henry Burgoyne married Mr. E. C. Mead, of Keswick, Albemarle county Va.

The members of the family have still in their possession the seal of William Henry Burgoyne, the emigrant, engraved on the coat of arms and crest as worn by Lord General John Burgoyne of England, (as given in Burke's Peerage). This seal, made from an ash tree planted in England 1716, which shaded the birthplace of the emigrant and was the residence of his ancestors for half a century. The crest was a tree, the trunk of which was a sword, and the branches were the arms of the family. There are several of the descendants of Lord Burgoyne now living in New York city, but the name has ceased in Virginia.

We give the coat of arms, as found in the British Peerage.

Creation—1641.

Arms—Gules, a chevron, or, between three talbots (hounds) arg.; on a chief embattled, of the last as many martlets, (swallows) az.

Crest—A talbot segant, or, ears, sa, and plain collared, gu.

Seat—Sutton Park, county, Bedford.

The remarkable circumstance connected with the two families of Mead and Burgoyne is that one, a great-grandson of General William Hull, of the Revolutionary war, who opposed General John Burgoyne at Saratoga, married a great-granddaughter of that defeated General, who surrendered his whole army to the American forces. But the treatment of the respective Governments. General Hull, who was sent to the wild territory of Michigan in 1812, by hostile Indians, besides having a large British force from Canada, was forced to surrender Detroit to the Americans. He was court-martialed and condemned to be hung, but on account of age and having served through the Revolution with Washington, the sentence was revoked. On the other hand, General Burgoyne was received in England with high honors though having lost the flower of the British Army in America. Such was the respect of the two nations in their treatment of two most noted Generals of the Revolution.

"W." In The Times-Dispatch of November 1, corrects "E. C. M." as to the 60 years ago by the attack of a servant woman. His name was Joseph, not "James" as written by "E. C. M." In this "W." is right, but he omits the middle initial, which was P. for Pendleton, perhaps.

As "E. C. M." dismisses this important fact in a very few words, I mention some particulars of the distressing occurrence, and give some account of the bravest of the Winston family, to which Joseph P. Winston belonged. His residence was on Seventh Street, opposite the old house on the east side of Seventh. Jane Williams—nee McKenney—a mulatto woman of morose disposition, from some grudge or discontent, entered the chamber of Mr. Winston and his family were sleeping in the early morning. She killed Mrs. Winston and her infant. The little boy, Charles, being absent at his grandmother's, escaped. Jane Williams was hung. Her husband, who stood watching at the door while she did her bloody work, was afterwards convicted and hung. Charles Winston was raised by his grandmother, Mrs. Pankley, widow of a well-known gentleman.

He, Mr. Charles Winston, is now living and is engaged in business in Amelia county, Va.; his residence being in Richmond.

Mr. Joseph P. Winston, who after some time, was able to resume business at the corner of Cary and Fourteenth, S. E., was the son of Mr. Philip B. Winston, of Hanover, who was a representative of that highly respectable class known as the "Old Clerks of Virginia." He was noted for his common sense, which was a characteristic of his family, and for his successful management of his own business. From his highly cultivated farm and his residence, known as Blenheim, he regularly rode in the Courthouse on four miles west of Hanover Courthouse, horseback every day except Sunday, for many years. Long experience in the county and chancery courts gave him such knowledge of the law that his advice was frequently sought; and it was said that he sometimes corrected the lawyers. His eldest son, William Winston, succeeded him in the office of county clerk.

Mr. Philip B. Winston's first wife was of the Shore family. She had the mother of seven sons and one daughter. Mr. Hickerton Winston, the last of this family died last year at his home near Hanover Courthouse. She was 80 years old.

Mr. Philip B. Winston's second wife was Jane Price, youngest daughter of Thomas Price, of "Cool Water," near the old Fork Church in Albemarle county. She was the mother of two sons and one daughter. The last named (Sallie Winston), the widow of Dr. Gregory, is the only survivor of all Mr. P. B. Winston's seven children. She is the mother-in-law of W. D. Cardwell, who represents Hanover county in the House of Delegates of Virginia, one of the eight sons of William Winston, the oldest son above mentioned, is the wife of General Rosser, of Albemarle county, Va. "Blenheim," the old home of Philip B. Winston, was burned down last year by fire. It was a fine old house, a mile or two east of the Courthouse, named "Courtland" was handsomely renovated by his sons during their mother's lifetime, and is now occupied by one of those sons, Dr. Winston, the others being in the Northwest. "W." mentions the "Prices" and "Dabneys" as descendants of the "Winstons." The first must have been a misprint for "Price." Thomas Price, of Cool Water, married Barbara Winston, Elizabeth Price, one of their daughters, married to Charles Dabney. They were the parents of Rev. Dr. R. S. Dabney and of William Dabney Cowper, of Hanover, and of Francis Dabney, of Mississippi, all deceased, besides several daughters. Miss Elizabeth, Mrs. Franklin Johnson, Mrs. Woodrow Payne. The sons of Rev. Dr. R. L. Dabney are Charles W. Dabney, president of the University of Tennessee; Samuel Dabney, of Victoria; A. Lewis Dabney, of Dallas, Texas, both lawyers. A son of William Dabney, Rev. John W. Dabney, minister and missionary of the Presbyterian Church, died in Brazil. He is survived by two brothers, Charles W. and George, the first of whom resides near Doabell, Henrico county, with his sister, Miss Bettle Dabney.

By the marriage of Mr. Philip B. Winston to Jane Price, as above mentioned, the Winstons and Prices are connected, as well as by the marriage of Thomas Price to Barbara Winston. But there is a connection of the families by the marriage of Thomas Price, to Eliza Winston, sister of Horatio Gates Winston, of Louisa county. Mrs. Maria Roper and William Winston, all these being children of Colonel John Winston and Ann Overton. Joseph Farrell Price, descended Judge John Price, of Hillsboro, Ohio; William Marshall John Price, of Hanover, and Thomas R. Price, of Richmond. The sons of Thomas R. Price are Charles Price, named after his great-grandfather, Bishop Channing Moore, killed at the battle of Chancellorsville, Professor Thomas R. Price, of New York, lately deceased, and Mr. and Mrs. Price, now living, of Richmond. The daughter of Thomas R. Price is Miss Virginia Price, of Richmond, and Mrs. Thomas Norwood, of Botetourt county, Va., now living. The daughters of Joseph Farrell Price, sisters of Thomas R. Price, all deceased, were Eliza, married to Dr. John Brown, Cornell, wife of Professor George E. Dabney; Ellen, wife of Dr. Lucien B. Price; Lavina, wife of Professor Lucien B. Price; and Mary, married to Charlotte Courthouse. Deferring any further account of these families, permit me to add that "W." omits Pleasant Winston, the brother of John Winston, of Church Hill. He bore the father's name.

James Winston lived in a fine old mansion on Broad, near Twenty-seventh, shaded by horse chestnuts. The half square which he owned, and which he built over by the late Mr. J. P. P.

John Syme, the Emigrant.

Charleston, Kanawha County, W. Va., November 14, 1903.

Editor of The Times-Dispatch: Sir—In your issue of the 25th, last, you published an article on the Winston family of Virginia. This, I think, is slightly erroneous. I beg to offer these corrections:

Sarah Winston married, first, John Syme, (not John Lyne) the emigrant, who came to the colony about 1721. After his marriage there came to him with letters of introduction Colonel John Henry, a man of stature, a magistrate and loyal subject, who took pleasure in drinking the King's health at the head of his regiment. He was, of course, well received.

John Syme and Sarah Winston, his wife, had issue, John Syme, 2d. John Syme died in 1728. His widow, Sarah married afterwards Col. John Henry, and by him had issue, among others, Patrick, who thus became a half brother of John Syme, 2d. This John Syme 2d took a prominent part in the Revolutionary proceedings. Among his issue were John, 3d, and Nicholas 1738. Nicholas M. lived and died at New Castle, Hanover County. His son, John Syme, 4th, married Francis Cole Diggs, of Albemarle. Lived in Richmond, died there 1880. His daughter, Margaret, is there 1880. His daughter, Margaret, is there 1880. His daughter, Margaret, is there 1880.

Very Respectfully,
JOHN SYME HOGUE.

TONGERS EXCITED

Circulate Petitions Against the Breaking of Baylor Survey. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) YORKTOWN, Va., Nov. 21.—The recent majority report of the Oyster Commission finds extensive adverse criticism among the tongsers in this section of the State.

Active preparations are being made to fight the issue to the last ditch. Numerous numbers of petitions are being circulated and find ready support, looking to concerted action at the State capital. Should the General Assembly tie to the report, the tongsers looking to its being annulled by the governor will be appealed to, in the effort to get him to veto the measure.

Yorktown of late years has become something of a "Greenland," and the minister, Rev. R. N. Crooks, a superannuated member of the Virginia Conference, has made more than one trip "river" in staid couples on their matrimonial journey.

Dr. Thomas Ridge, of Knoxville, Tenn., has been detached from that post and ordered here to succeed Mr. Wm. F. Veale.

A HANDSOME MEDAL.

Meeting Royal Tribe of Joseph. Confederate Veteran Gathering.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) STAUNTON, Va., Nov. 21.—A meeting of the Royal Tribe of Joseph was held Tuesday night in the Royal Arcanum Hall to discuss the recent consolidation of the Tribe. They were addressed by Col. R. E. Yowell, general agent, and former supreme lecturer.

There was a large meeting of the Confederate Veterans on Tuesday night of this week.

A number of communications were read from the sponsors and made of honor to the recent reunion, and Commander Gen. W. Nelson made a brief talk on that subject. A handsome gold and emerald medal bearing the insignia of the different branches of the Confederate service, that of the cavalry, infantry, artillery and navy, was shown to the day Judge Hanford ruled that to swear falsely in making final proof on a homestead doesn't constitute perjury.

A State for the Sinner. A Spokane court has decided that the law against "jumping" a board that is in the water is not violated by a man who jumps on a board that is in the water. A little while back an Olympia judge held that there is nothing in the statutes to interfere with common, plain, old-fashioned lying, and the other day Judge Hanford ruled that to swear falsely in making final proof on a homestead doesn't constitute perjury.

CANCEROUS ULCERS

ROOTED IN THE BLOOD.

After the age of 45 or 50, when the vital powers are naturally weaker, it is noticed that a hurt of any kind heals slowly and often a very insignificant scratch or bruise

A small pimple came on my jaw, but gave me no pain or inconvenience, and I should have forgotten it had it not begun to inflame and itch; it would bleed a little, then scab over, but would not heal. This continued for some time when the cancer began to eat and spread, until it was as large as a half dollar, when I heard of S. S. S. and determined to give it a fair trial, and it is remarkable what a wonderful effect it had from the beginning; the cancer began to heal and after taking a few bottles disappeared entirely. This was two years ago; there are still no signs of the cancer, my general health is continuous good. Mrs. R. SHIBER, Wyandotte, Mo.

Whenever a sore or ulcer is slow in healing then you may be sure something is radically wrong with your blood. Some old taint or poison that has been slumbering there for years, is beginning to assert itself, and breaks out and becomes a bad ulcer and perhaps the beginning of Cancer. These old sores are rooted in the blood, and while washes, soaps, salves, etc., keep the surface clean, they are not healing. A blood medicine to purify and strengthen the polluted blood and a tonic to build up the general system is what is needed, and S. S. S. is just such a remedy. No poison is so powerful and no germ so deadly that this great vegetable blood remedy cannot reach it, and ulcers of every kind quickly yield to its wonderful curative properties. If you have an old sore or ulcer, write us all about it, and medical advice or any information you may desire will be given by our physicians without charge.
